Fusion Advisory Partners team joins StormHarbour

Thursday, 14 October 2010 16:57

StormHarbour Partners continues to build out its client-dedicated offering with the addition of the Fusion Advisory Partners Inc. team to its US operations.

The joining of this experienced team of professionals marks one of the first clear examples of consolidation among new capital markets and advisory-focused financial services firms, a trend that it is expected to accelerate.

Fusion Advisory Partners Inc., the founders of which include Gregory Freer and Joseph McCann, provides buy- and sell-side financial institution clients with specialist fixed income advisory, asset evaluation and divestiture, credit risk management and research advisory services.

The Fusion team have extensive experience in credit, alternative, structured finance and private equity markets, and have been at the forefront of several industry trends, particularly in regards to consolidation in the US CLO market and restructuring of credit default swap portfolios.
